Jonathan Hill

A Box of Crayons' master facilitator for 10 years, Jonathan is passionate about helping managers and leaders work less hard and have more impact in a simple, practical and engaging way. Jonathan's expertise includes executive coaching, EI development and facilitating multi-modular leadership development programs.

He is an associate certified coach with the International Coaching Federation, having trained at the Coaches Training Institute in London, England. Jonathan's experience as a coach and facilitator is extensive — he has worked with some of the UK's most recognized organizations, in both the private and public sector. Before his career in coaching, Jonathan held leadership positions at Coca-Cola and Red Bull.

Having now found his true calling, Jonathan sees his early work years as being all about polishing a very rough diamond. Memorable moments include having doors slammed in his face while trying to sell vouchers door to door in the suburbs of Melbourne — despite turning up the “poor Englishman miles from home” accent.

Jonathan is also a keen cyclist and busy dad chauffeur, and volunteers as a governor at his local primary school.
